Claims 2-18 each depend either directly or indirectly from claim 1 and are allowable for at least the same reasons.

None of the prior art shows or renders obvious a clutch assembly including a selectable mode clutch including first and second races, rollers and a control member, in combination with an actuator as specified in claim 19, and particularly wherein a projection is integrally formed with one of the races; the control member includes first and second receiving portions; and the actuator is operable to move one of the control member and the projection along the central axis relative to the other of the control member and the projection between a first position, in which the projection is positioned in the first receiving portion to operate the clutch in a first mode, and a second position, in which the projection is positioned in the second receiving portion to operate the clutch in a second mode different from the first mode.

Claims 19-40 each depend either directly or indirectly from claim 1 and are allowable for at least the same reasons.
